Job Description

The Academic Success Coordinator, EdD Program implements curriculum support activities for the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College (MLFTC) Doctoral Programs, as part of the college’s delivery of multiple doctoral programs for several hundred students. The Academic Success Coordinator plans, organizes, and coordinates academic advising activities with the purpose of promoting academic standards, and student success in meeting these standards to ensure retention. The Academic Success Coordinator is a collaborative member of the MLFTC Doctoral Programs team.

We seek a high-performing, collaborative, approachable, positive, service-oriented individual to provide one-on-one and group academic advising for EdD students, as well as communicate with the Leadership and Innovation (L&I) Program Chair, L&I Program Committee, dissertation chairs, and Director of Doctoral Programs about issues related to advising, student services, and program management/development primarily in the Leadership and Innovation, EdD program. The Academic Success Coordinator will contribute to increasing doctoral student retention and supporting students through graduation. They will support students in making timely progress toward their degree through a range of in-person and online academic counseling and support strategies. An ideal candidate will thrive working with full-time domestic and international EdD students. A strong candidate will demonstrate a commitment to student success, advancing the professional development of students and faculty, and advancing the doctoral programs leadership team. The ideal candidate will demonstrate initiative and independent decision-making and judgment in both routine and non-routine situations. This position is full-time and reports to the Director of Doctoral Programs.
