About the Program, the College and the University

ASU's Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College creates knowledge, mobilizes people, and takes action to improve education. Nationally recognized as a leading innovator in teacher education and scholarly research, Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College prepares over 7,600 educators annually. MLFTC faculty create knowledge by drawing from a wide range of academic disciplines to gain insight into important questions about the process of learning, the practice of teaching, and the effects of education policy. MLFTC mobilizes people through bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs, through non-degree professional development programs, and through socially embedded, multilateral community engagement. MLFTC takes action by bringing people and ideas together to increase the capabilities of individual educators and the performance of education systems. MLFTC is committed to ensuring that the fundamental commitment to advancing system equity, inclusion, and justice is enacted in our curricula, programming, and relationships. Our ultimate goal is to help us imagine possibilities for creating sustainable cultures in our college and with our global communes that are reflective of a deep commitment to inclusion, systemic equity, and justice.
