Introduction

Master of Education degree in Educational Leadership (Principalship)

The MEd in Educational Leadership (Principalship) provides students the knowledge and expertise to become transformative administrators or teacher leaders with a deep and unwavering commitment to excellent and equitable educational opportunities for all students.

This program provides graduates with the skills to:

- Facilitate school-level, systemic change
- Create and sustain a culture of innovation and collaboration
- Successfully lead curriculum development
- Interpret and use data to support student success
- Utilize the evaluation process to provide effective feedback and support for teachers and staff
- Build a community network of support for students and their school
- Ensure equitable educational opportunities and support for all students

Program options

This MEd is available in two formats. In both formats, courses are delivered remotely to meet the needs of working educators, wherever they are located. All courses are taught by the same renowned faculty members using the same curriculum. Both options prepare graduates to meet Arizona requirements for principal certification. Non-Arizona residents, please refer to the ASU Online State Authorization page for additional information.

ASU Sync

This option is an accelerated, 14-month program in which students attend all classes via Zoom at scheduled times, offering a live learning experience with faculty members and peers. While all classes are taught remotely, students must apply and be admitted to either the ASU West or ASU Polytechnic campus.

ASU Online

This option offers a two-year program in which coursework is delivered asynchronously and can be accessed online according to the student’s schedule.

Requirements for both options:

- Bachelor’s degree
- At least two years of pre-K–12 teaching experience as a teacher of record before you begin the first semester of the program
- You must be employed in a school-based position or have access to an approved school placement that will serve as your laboratory of practice.

Purpose of the handbook

This handbook provides guidance and information related to admission, program requirements, and general policies and procedures. Please note that in some cases you will find differences between program policies and requirements and the Graduate College policies and procedures. In these cases, Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College has established higher standards. Policies and procedures are subject to change, with changes communicated to students through email. Any updates to this handbook can be found on the program website.

Graduate admission requirements

ASU maintains minimum standards for consideration for admission to graduate programs. The program may establish requirements in excess of those established by the university.

- An earned bachelor’s degree or higher from a regionally accredited institution in the U.S., or the equivalent of a U.S. bachelor’s degree from an international institution officially recognized by that country.
- Maintain a B (3.00 on a 4.00 scale) grade point average in the last 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours of undergraduate coursework. If you do not meet the minimum GPA requirements, your application may still be considered.
- International applicants must provide proof of English proficiency. The following are accepted to meet his requirement
  - Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL): score of at least 550 (PBT) or 80 (iBT). ASU’s institutional code is 4007. Only electronic copies of scores are accepted.
  - International English Language Testing System (IELTS): overall band score of at least 6.5. No institutional code is needed.
  - Pearson Test of English (PTE): score of at least 60.
- Individual academic units or programs may have higher requirements for English proficiency.

Academic program admission requirements

In addition to the graduate admission requirements, the program requires the following as part of the application:

Personal statement — Responses to short-answer questions provide the admission committee with information regarding your personal or professional goals and how they align with the MEd in Educational Leadership (Principalship) program. The admission committee pays particular attention to the quality of writing and ideas expressed in these responses as well as evaluating the relevance of goals to the aims of the program. Please respond to three of the four questions below. Responses should be limited to 150–200 words per question. The statement should be prepared in an MS Word (.doc), Rich Text (.rtf), Portable Document Format (.pdf), or Text (.txt) file format.

- Describe one or more professional goals that motivate you to apply for this degree. How will completion of the MEd Educational Leadership (Principalship) program help you fulfill this/these goals?
- What is your best leadership quality as it applies to the field of education? Describe at least one situation in which this quality was exemplified.
- Describe an activity or practice you have implemented that reflects your philosophy of education as it relates to your classroom or current educational setting.
- Discuss why you are interested in pursuing a graduate degree at this time. What steps have you taken, or will you take, to ensure that you will be successful in the program?

Three professional references — Provide the names, email addresses and institution or company of individuals who will submit electronic letters of recommendation. One of your recommendations must be from your current school principal or equivalent (e.g., head of school or school director). The others should be from educators that know of your professional capabilities and accomplishments. These references will be asked to comment on your leadership, professionalism, flexibility and other qualities that indicate you are a suitable candidate for graduate study in school leadership.

Resume that includes relevant personal, professional, educational and community activities (one to two pages). The resume should be prepared in an MS Word (.doc), Rich Text (.rtf), Portable Document Format (.pdf), or Text (.txt) file format.
Provisional acceptance guidelines

Applicants who do not meet the GPA criteria for admission but have otherwise strong applications may be considered for provisional admission by the committee. This status provides the academic unit with an opportunity to better evaluate the student’s academic potential. Students are notified of the provisional requirements in the admission notice from the college.

Most provisions must be completed within the first semester of enrollment. When students have satisfied the provisional requirements, they should confirm with their academic advising team that a change of status has been recommended. Students with provisional admission are not eligible to submit an interactive Plan of Study — the iPOS — until the conditions of admission have been satisfied.

Graduate Admission Services will withdraw students who have not met the provisions of their admission within the required time frame from the degree program.

Preadmission credit policy

With the approval of the degree program and the ASU Graduate College, students may include a maximum of 12 graduate-level credit hours with grades of B or better that were not used toward a previous degree. Preadmission credits must have been taken within three years of admission to the ASU degree program to be accepted. The complete preadmission credit policy can be found on the Graduate College website.

Tuition cost and financial aid

Tuition and fees

Tuition is set by ASU and the Arizona Board of Regents each year. View the general tuition and fees schedule, or calculate a more specific estimate of charges using the ASU Tuition Estimator. Most online courses carry mandatory fees in addition to the tuition and other university fees.

Curriculum and graduation requirements

Program requirements

Students in the MEd Educational Leadership (Principalship) program complete 36 credits of graduate coursework, including a full-year internship and a culminating applied project. Courses in the program are offered in a predetermined sequence that includes summer terms. Summer enrollment may be necessary to complete the requirements.

The course sequence is based on the session in which you begin the program. Your academic advising team will provide you with the appropriate course sequence upon admission to the program. If you take a course out of sequence, your time to degree completion or financial aid eligibility may be affected as not all courses are offered every session.

For each option, your academic advising team will provide you with a required course list and course sequence. The ASU Sync option will require 2–4 courses each semester. The ASU Online option will require 1–3 courses per semester. Course sequences are found on the Teachers College Graduate Student Success Site.

To meet Arizona Department of Education requirements for principal certification, this MEd requires 36 graduate semester hours of educational administration courses. Students who already have a master’s degree in another content area will typically need to earn this master’s degree in educational leadership in order to meet the coursework requirements for principal certification.

In order to successfully complete coursework and internship requirements, you must have an ASU- and district-approved school placement for the field experience and the internship prior to the start of the initial summer intensive for the ASU Sync option.

Students are expected to locate and make arrangements with the mentor principal and obtain permission from the principal’s employing district administration prior to beginning the program.

Program of study — ASU Sync option

Students are required to complete an active, two-semester internship (EDA 584/684) with a certified practicing principal who will serve as a mentor for all field internship experiences. Students are expected to locate and make arrangements with the mentor principal and obtain permission from the principal’s employing district administration prior to beginning the initial summer intensive.

An ASU faculty supervisor and ASU leadership coach will work with the intern and mentor to craft experiences that will benefit the student and expand their skills in the ASU internship standards (developed from the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders).

The full-year internship consists of 270 clock hours of leadership experiences. Some of these hours will be fulfilled through fieldwork in your regular courses. You will earn the remaining hours during the two semesters of the internship (EDA 584/684) to complete the Arizona Department of Education internship requirements.

Culminating Applied Project (EDA 593)

Students will plan, research and implement an action research study to solve a problem of practice at their school. Results of the study will be presented orally and in writing. Students must earn a grade of B or higher in this course.

Program of study — ASU Online option

Students complete coursework online and gain the field experiences required to attain principal certification. The program is typically completed in two years, depending on when the student starts the program. To successfully complete the program you must be employed for the duration of the program by a K–12 school or school district, in order to have a laboratory of practice in which to apply the concepts, principles and leadership approaches learned through your coursework.

Students are required to complete an active, two-semester internship (EDA 584/684) with a certified practicing principal who will serve as a mentor for all field internship experiences. Students are expected to locate and make arrangements with the mentor principal and obtain permission from the principal’s employing district administration prior to beginning the first semester of the program.

Culminating Applied Project (EDA 593)

Students will plan, research and implement an action research study to solve a problem of practice at their school. Results of the study will be presented orally and in writing. Students must earn a grade of B or higher in this course.

Course sequence

Coursework is grouped for sequential study. Students must complete the first block of courses before moving on to the second. (Note: A block does not equal a semester — a student may take only 1–3 courses per semester). Students will receive a plan for their course sequence when they are admitted. Courses will be taken consecutively.

Interactive Plan of Study

All ASU graduate students are required to complete and submit a plan of study online through the My ASU Interactive Plan of Study. The iPOS must be submitted and approved prior to completing 50% of the coursework required for your program.

Students are encouraged to schedule an appointment with their academic advising team to discuss their plan of study and how to complete the iPOS. After submitting the iPOS, your academic advising team will approve it. The Graduate College has final approval over all iPOS submissions.
When evaluating your iPOS, your academic advising team will check to ensure all required coursework is included as part of your plan and that you are planning to take courses in the appropriate sequence/order. Your academic advising team will send your iPOS back to you for revision if it is incorrect.

Principal certification

To learn more about becoming a certified principal in the state of Arizona, visit the Arizona Department of Education website for certification requirements including years of required teaching experience, the Arizona Educator Proficiency Assessment and Structured English Immersion coursework. Satisfactory Academic Progress and Professional Conduct Policy

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the policies and procedures listed in the MLFTC Satisfactory Academic Progress and Professional Conduct (SAPPC) policies, and understand Graduate College policies related to academic progress found on the Graduate College Policy and Procedure website. This is not a complete representation of the current SAPPC policy, which includes policies and procedures regarding academic progress, professional experiences, and appeals and grievances. Students are expected to read and understand the policy in its entirety.

To remain in good standing in Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress consisting of both academic performance and adherence to MLFTC’s Professionalism Standards. This document sets forth the standards and expectations for “satisfactory academic progress” and “good standing” for undergraduate and graduate students and explains the consequences of failure to meet these standards.

In addition to the policies stated herein, students are expected to abide by applicable ASU and Arizona Board of Regents policies, including the Student Code of Conduct, the ASU Academic Integrity Policy, ASU Graduate College Policies and Procedures (for graduate students), as well as all policies, procedures, rules, regulations and requirements established by the local education agency, school district and/or school in which they are engaged in field experience or residency. Failure to do so may lead to consequences that include dismissal from the program and expulsion from the university. Graduate students should also refer to the ASU Graduate College website for further information about ASU Graduate College policies.

Student responsibility

All students are expected to be familiar with and abide by university and program policies and procedures. Visit the following websites for policy and procedure information:

- ASU Graduate College
- Graduate College Policies and Procedures
- Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College

Student email

Email is a primary form of communication between MLFTC and students in the program. Students are expected to check their ASU student email account regularly to ensure timely receipt of information from faculty and staff.

Harassment

ASU is committed to providing an environment free of discrimination, harassment or retaliation for the entire university community. ASU expressly prohibits discrimination, harassment and retaliation by employees, students, contractors or agents of the university based on any protected status: race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity and genetic information. More information on ASU’s policy on discrimination, harassment, and retaliation

Academic integrity

Integrity is a character-driven commitment to honesty, doing what is right and guiding others to do what is right. ASU students and faculty are expected to act with integrity in their educational pursuits.

The ASU student Academic Integrity Policy lists violations in detail. These violations fall into five broad areas that include but are not limited to:
- Cheating on an academic evaluation or assignment
- Plagiarizing
- Academic deceit, such as fabricating data or information
- Aiding academic integrity policy violations and inappropriately collaborating
- Falsifying academic records

Student Code of Conduct

The ASU Student Code of Conduct sets forth the standards expected of students who choose to join the university community. Students who violate these standards will be subject to disciplinary sanctions in order to promote their own personal development, to protect the university community and to maintain order and stability on campus. All students are likewise expected to adhere to the Arizona Board of Regents Student Code of Conduct.

Complete resources regarding policies related to the ASU Student Code of Conduct

Graduate College and graduate student responsibilities

Graduate students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with all university and graduate policies and procedures. Each student should also communicate directly with their academic unit to be clear on its expectations for program completion.

Information is provided to students via My ASU. Students should frequently check their My ASU page for the most up-to-date information regarding their status, holds, items to attend to and other important information.

The Graduate College establishes policies that are consistent for all graduate students throughout the university. These policies include, but are not limited to:

- Maintaining continuous enrollment
- Completion of the interactive Plan of Study
- Maximum time limit for completing degrees
- Preadmission credit
- Academic progress
- Graduate degree requirements

Students are responsible for understanding the policies set by the Graduate College. Complete policies and procedures for graduate students can be found on the Graduate College website.
Policies and procedures

Registration and drop/add Policies

All students are required to have proof of measles immunizations on file with Student Health prior to registration. Graduate students register through My ASU according to your enrollment appointment.

Complete details regarding registration and course drop/add procedures are provided in the Registration and Tuition Payment Guide.

Enrollment verification guidelines

The University Registrar’s Office will verify student enrollment each semester. Full-time and half-time credit requirements can be found at Enrollment and degree verification.

Note for students in online programs: Typical enrollment in MLFTC online master’s degree programs is six credits per semester. This is generally considered half time for enrollment verification purposes. Students beginning online programs in B sessions typically register for three credits in the first term, which is considered less than half time. Typical enrollment in graduate certificate programs is 3–6 credits per semester.

Maximum course load

MLFTC provides recommended course sequences for all graduate programs to guide students in their registration each term. Students are encouraged to follow the course sequence for their program, or to discuss any alterations with your academic advising team. Course sequences are developed with program progression and student success in mind. The Graduate College does not mandate a maximum course load for graduate students. Anything in excess of 18 semester credit hours requires override approval.

Some MLFTC programs restrict the number of credit hours students may take within the academic program. Please consult your academic advising team if you have questions about your course sequence or the number of credits you may take in any given term.

Continuous enrollment

Once admitted to a graduate degree or graduate certificate program, students must be registered for a minimum of one credit hour during all phases of their graduate education, including the term in which they graduate. This includes periods when students are engaged in research, conducting a doctoral prospectus, working on or defending theses or dissertations, taking comprehensive examinations, taking Graduate Foreign Language Examinations, or in any other way utilizing university resources, facilities or faculty time.

Registration every fall and spring semester is required. Summer registration is required for students taking examinations, completing culminating experiences, conducting a doctoral prospectus, defending theses or dissertations, or graduating from the degree program.

To maintain continuous enrollment the credit hour(s) must:

- Appear on the student's iPOS, or
- Be research (592, 792), thesis (599), dissertation (799) or continuing registration (595, 695, 795) or
- Be a graduate-level course.

Grades of W or X are not considered valid registration for continuous enrollment purposes. W grades are received when students officially withdraw from a course after the drop/add period. X grades are received for audit credit.
Students completing work for a course in which they received an I grade must maintain continuous enrollment as defined previously.

Request to maintain continuous enrollment (leave of absence)

Graduate students planning to discontinue registration for a semester or more must submit a Request to Maintain Continuous Enrollment form. This request must be submitted and approved before the anticipated semester of nonregistration. Students may request to maintain continuous enrollment without course registration for a maximum of two semesters during their entire program.

Having a Graduate College-approved Request to Maintain Continuous Enrollment will enable students to re-enter their program without reapplying to the university. Failure to maintain continuous enrollment results in withdrawal from the academic program. Students removed for this reason may reapply for admission to resume their program. The application will be considered along with all other new applications to the program.

A student with a Graduate College-approved Request to Maintain Continuous Enrollment is not required to pay tuition and/or fees, but is not permitted to place any demands on university resources. These resources include university libraries, laboratories, recreation facilities or faculty time.

Voluntary withdrawal

To withdraw from a graduate program and the university, students must complete the Voluntary Withdrawal form. Submitting a voluntary withdrawal form does not remove a student from courses. Students must file separately with the University Registrar’s Office to drop any courses.

Medical/compassionate withdrawal

A student may be eligible for a medical/compassionate withdrawal if the withdrawal is due to extenuating circumstances such as a previous serious physical or mental illness (medical withdrawal) or the death or serious illness of a family member (compassionate withdrawal). To request a medical or compassionate withdrawal, students must submit a Request for a Documented Medical/Compassionate Withdrawal.

Maximum time limit to complete degree

Master’s degree — All work toward a master’s degree must be completed within six consecutive years. The six years begin with the semester and year of admission to the program. Graduate courses taken prior to admission that are included on the plan of study must have been completed within three years of the semester and year of admission to the program.

Doctoral degree — Doctoral students must complete all program requirements within a 10-year period. The 10-year period begins with the semester and year of admission to the doctoral program. Graduate courses taken prior to admission that are included on the iPOS must have been completed within three years of the semester and year of admission to the program. (Previously awarded master’s degrees used on the plan of study are exempt.)

Any exception to the time limit policy must be approved by the supervisory committee, the head of the academic unit and the dean of the Graduate College. The Graduate College may withdraw students who are unable to complete all degree requirements and graduate within the allowed maximum time limits.
